Cardinal Pell founded the Melbourne session of the Institute with Bishop Fisher as first Director, on a deep spiritual life, a total commitment to principles which underpin sacramental, Christian family life. It was my privilege to be Archbishop at the time of the Opening of the Institute.

Pope John Paul II said in 1995: "This is what man needs today; he is often unable to be silent for fear of meeting himself, of feeling the emptiness that asks itself about the meaning; man who deafens himself with noise. All, believers and non-believers alike, need to learn a silence that allows the Other to speak when and how He wishes and allows us to understand His words".

Coming from the basis of regular daily prayer and sacramental life is a thirst for truth, faithfulness to the Magisterium and readiness to make the extra effort involved in rigorous study which has become the characteristic ethos of the Institute. 2005 brought the election of Benedict XVI, who shares John Paul II's vision for the sacredness of the human person and dignity of marriage and family life. In his encyclical Deus Caritas Est, Pope Benedict explains that real love "seeks the good of the beloved" and through this self-giving love we can come to discover Christ. Since the election of Pope Francis in 2013 we have seen a further continuity in papal teaching with Francis's affirmation of marriage as an "icon of God's love for us".

Every year, in addition to the dedicated work of the regular members of staff, visiting lecturers come from interstate and overseas to conduct intensive courses in a wide variety of subjects. Their contributions guarantee that the students have access to the very best of recent Catholic scholarship from universities around the world. The student body itself is international. The first graduate of the Institute, Salesio Lui, was from the Island of Tokelau. Other students come from other parts of the Pacific and South East Asia, as well as Canada, England and France.

I am immensely proud of the Institute's achievements. I commend the 2014 Scholarly Portfolio to your attention.

Denis J. Hart,
President of the Institute
Archbishop of Melbourne

In July 2001 Cardinal Alfonso Lopez Trujillo, President of the Pontifical Council for the Family, formally opened and blessed the newest of ten campuses worldwide of the John Paul II Institute for Marriage and Family at the Thomas Carr Centre in Melbourne.

The inspiration of Pope John Paul in founding the Institute was to place an examination of the central issues affecting marriage and the family at the heart of the Church's work so that the family, the domestic church, might occupy its rightful place in the teaching of the Gospel.

In an increasingly complex world, where the principles which underpin the gift of life and the dignity of the human person are often cast aside by the pragmatism of politicians or the inroads of secularism, it is my belief that the Institute has a God-given task to perform. Already the Institute's influence on moral theology has been shown and its work is extending further to philosophy and theology itself.
